

Mayor Jackson reveals: 'philosophy' forcing Turner resignation

ALBANY — Mayor Joyce Jackson has indicated she believes the city must be more people oriented in the future and that this was a major factor in the forced resignation of City Administrator James Turner.

Future city councils and administrators, she feels, must emphasize citizen participation in government, environmental concerns, human services and government for the benefit of the public, not private interests.

She predicted Albany's city government of the future will be dramatically different from the "old Albany Mayor Joyce Jackson predicts."

And the new city administrator must be able to help the city in new directions, Mayor Jackson believes.

Mayor Jackson and the other two members of the council majority have been reluctant to discuss Turner's resignation.

On May 4 she issued a press release stating that Turner had resigned and that all five members of the council and Turner had mutually concluded that a change in administration was needed.

Last week, after it became known that two members of the council had fought the ouster, a hostile crowd at city council meeting pressured Mrs. Jackson, and council members Mike Gleason and Pat Griffin into an explanation of their actions.

The majority indicated they respected Turner and thought him dedicated and competent, but said they had philosophical differences with him.

In an interview this week Mayor Jackson expanded on what she meant by philosophical differences.

The old Albany was not people-oriented, did not welcome ordinary citizen participation, and was not interested in environmental matters, human relations or public-over-private solutions, she indicated.

The people-oriented philosophy, with the potential for creating new city policies and directions, have been supported by the council's majority members — Mike Gleason, Pat Griffin and herself, she said.

The implication is that City Administrator Turner, considered by the three council members to be a hold-over from the "old Albany," was not people-oriented.

ALBANY — Robert Chin was named president of the Albany school board during the trustees' annual reorganization session, conducted May 10 at the Marin School. He succeeds Robert A. Nehls. Elected vice-president was Jack Rosano, a lieutenant in the Berkeley Fire Department.

Chin is a business and Chinese language instructor at Merritt College, Oakland. He was elected to the board in 1970, served as president in 1972-73, and was re-elected in 1974 to a second four-year term. Serving with him in addition to Rosano and Rosano, are Bruce Arnold and Ruth Chang.

Nehls, in passing the gavel to Chin, told the board that he "would like to make a public statement to the Albany citizens regarding their schools, and hope my fellow board members might support my statement."

ALBANY — The Albany City Council has denied an application for a tax-exempt business license submitted by a group affiliated with Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church.

Applicant was the New Education Development Systems Inc. of Berkeley, which wanted to continue selling candy and flowers door-to-door in the city's commercial and industrial areas.

The profits, explained Alan Seher, corporation vice president, are earmarked for the operating and facility costs of conducting an "educational seminar program."

The application was opposed by Police Chief James Simmons, City Treasurer Ellen Zapata and Chamber of Commerce Manager Hal Denham.

City Attorney Larry Saler told the council that the corporation's "parent organization," the Unification Church, had its tax-exempt status revoked in New York because the funds do not go for charitable purposes. Instead, the money goes "into the pockets of the biggies," Saler said.

Saler added this is not a question of free speech, since the organization can seek and obtain a regular business license, paying the city tax as do other businesses.

"We all know public education is the cornerstone of America," Nehls said. "Our forefathers subscribed to this fact, by so decreeing in our California Constitution that first call on general state monies (even though inadequate today) be for public education."

"In my opinion, Albany has done an outstanding job in providing the finest children in the State, finest facilities, programs and staff to accomplish this cornerstone."

"Because Mr. Chin, Mr. Rosano and myself cannot be re-elected in 1978, we will have an opportunity to elect three new Board members to continue the educational progress we are so justifiably proud of in Albany. I would suggest we all try to arouse interested Albany citizens to get involved now, so that the very best can be picked as our successors to continue bigger and better progress in years to come in Albany."

"As to my personal thoughts, I would like to reflect on a few items that we as a Board have accomplished in 1976/77 while I had the privilege to serve a third term as Board President."

"I have served on the Board almost fourteen years, since August, 1964, appointed for two years and now serving my third elected term."

"I would like to thank personally all my Albany friends and acquaintances for the privilege of allowing me to serve them for these many years. All Board members will be re-elected in 1978."

3 school unions submit proposals

ALBANY — Albany Unified School District will conduct a public hearing, Tuesday at 8 p.m. on the proposals submitted by three unions. The session is scheduled at the Marin School.

"We're urging the residents of the district to attend the session and respond to the proposals submitted to us by the Albany Teachers Association (ATA), the California School Employees' Association (C.S.E.A.), Chapter 679, and the United Public Employees Local 390," Albany School Superintendent Charles McCully said yesterday.

We have copies of these three proposals available at the district office at 304 Talbot, and at all school sites, for those persons desiring them."

In a three-part proposal submitted by the ATA the teachers "urge the Board of Trustees to improve the teachers' salary schedule by an overall six (6) percent, that the board pay for the increased costs of fringe benefits (Kaiser, Blue Cross, D.D.S. and Cal Vision), and finally the board provide for a modest medical program for qualified retired teachers."

Based upon the total cost of the teachers' salaries from the adjusted budget for the current year," the ATA added, "a six percent increase would cost approximately $131,000; fringe benefit increases would be approximately $15,000; and a medical program for retired teachers would amount to about $16,000."

An eight-page proposal submitted by Local 390 of the U.P.E., whose members include maintenance, custodial and safe workers, asks for a $125 per month increase to each employee's salary range, an increase in night-differential pay to 25 cents per hour, a cost-of-living salary increase adjusted quarterly and an increase in car allowance of $50.

The C.S.E.A. contract proposal for the 1977-78 school year is a 97-page document containing a list of 31 major categories of discussion, a two-page table of contents and a seven-page appendix. Salary proposals for the office workers range from $3.33 to $5.89 per hour.

ALBANY — Some 260 persons, including 23 "school-agers" and 15 "pre-schoolers" attended Albany's first town meeting, held Saturday in the Middle School.

The eight-hour convocation, divided into groups or "guilds," defined the problems facing the community during the morning sessions, and proposed solutions to the civic matters during afternoon meetings. The "challenges" and proposals on meeting these problems were listed in four categories — economic, political and cultural.

A 22-page report compiled and released shortly after the eight-hours of discussion that opened at 9 a.m. was prefaced with a statement of purpose titled "The Legend of Sleepy Willow."

"Into the sleepy hollow of a rural stable community inhabited by industrious working people — has charged the 'Headless Horseman' of dramatic change. The spectre has brought a more divergent population, reflected in a wide range of professions, ages and ethnic background, and economic stresses resulting in efforts to provide more services for this population."

"The challenge for the future lies in the desire to maintain the small-town feeling while at the same time meeting the needs of all the people."

Under cultural proposals the town meeting conferees suggested:

"In order to encourage and facilitate greater community involvement of citizens in decision-making (we) propose that the city council take specific actions to inform and involve the public through (a) establishing two hot lines at city hall; for citizens' concerns and to listen to a tape of the agenda for council meetings; (b) start newsletter of news items in paper from council on actions taken and vote record; and (c) hold an annual town meeting."

Also suggested is the establishment of an office of cultural affairs and an office of community services, and through these offices establish services director, expand services for seniors, coordinate existing resources, establish a primary health care center, and develop cultural life of Albany. Finally, a community group representation is asked. This, the group believes, would recognize and identify, organize and seek permanent representation.

Principal political proposals include the formation of neighborhood associations "in order to provide a vehicle for individual participation"; resource centers manned by volunteers at the library, schools, city and senior center; political education through newsletters covering hearings, newspapers, community postings, radio and television, etc. To deal with "factionalism," the guild suggests periodic town meetings, neighborhood discussion groups, and equal space discussion of issues in local newspapers.

Leading the economic proposals is a plan to form block associations to "communicate the needs and wants of the population to the city government and in turn inform the people of the uses of their tax dollars. A booklet outlining the city government processes is urged to "educate and train the citizens in city government procedures." Under "neighborhood powers" there is a proposal to create neighborhood organizations with funding and power "to

'Moonies' denied tax-exempt permit

ALBANY — The Albany City Council has denied an application for a tax-exempt business license submitted by a group affiliated with Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church.

Applicant was the New Education Development Systems Inc. of Berkeley, which wanted to continue selling candy and flowers door-to-door in the city's commercial and industrial areas.

The profits, explained Alan Seher, corporation vice president, are earmarked for the operating and facility costs of conducting an "educational seminar program."

The application was opposed by Police Chief James Simmons, City Treasurer Ellen Zapata and Chamber of Commerce Manager Hal Denham.

City Attorney Larry Saler told the council that the corporation's "parent organization," the Unification Church, had its tax-exempt status revoked in New York because the funds do not go for charitable purposes. Instead, the money goes "into the pockets of the biggies," Saler said.

Saler added this is not a question of free speech, since the organization can seek and obtain a regular business license, paying the city tax as do other businesses.

Albany Times Mailbag

Dear Sir:
Within the next few weeks the City of Albany will lose one of its top administrators, that being Mr. James B. Turner. For some unknown reason he was requested to resign his position as City Administrator.

Mayor Joyce Jackson, Councilman Mike Gleason and Councilman Pat Griffin are the only reason they have him as "loss of confidence" on their part.

After 16 1/2 years of service with the City of Albany, do these three city council members feel that the City of Albany needs a change, or is the real reason they themselves just want a change? It would appear that these three council members have taken it upon themselves to show the people of Albany what they are already know.

Mayor Jackson, Councilman Gleason and Griffin seem to have the best interest of the citizens of Albany in mind.

Over a year ago the three people forced the retirement of the Albany City Chief, who had over 25 years of service with the city for no other reason than his age and replaced him with someone of their own choosing with less experience and service.

It is a relief to know that these council members cannot interfere with the running of our outstanding Police Dept. which under Chief Simmons has become a Police Dept. to which its members can be proud to belong. Over the past several months they have run the City of Albany to court ruling, Councilman Griffin with his small amount of basic police experience, which cannot be completed as of this date and hopefully will not be an asset to whatever police department accepted him as a reserve officer. Since Mr. Griffin keeps referring to the way the Berkeley Police Department runs its department, it would appear that it would be better for all concerned if he moved into the city of Berkeley and ran a seat on their council.

In fact, in seeing the way the three council members are attempting to run Albany city government in much the same way the city of Berkeley is being run, it would appear that it would be better for the people of Albany if they would resign or be re-called so that all three could move into the city of Berkeley and run for the council in that city.

The City of Albany has not previously experienced such turmoil as it has over the past several years or since these three members have been placed into office. Since I have lived in the city for over ten years I have observed the breaking down of the city council.

In the past the council would have sat down and discussed any major problem that arose. That is not the case with the present three members, since they all think alike and can and do agree with each other without stopping to think if what they are acting on is the best for the city of Albany.

In the past things would have been settled in an adult and mature way, this is not true with the present council members, excluding councilman Howell and councilman Luoma. It would appear that instead of sitting down and attempting to settle the problem diplomatically with Mr. Turner they took it upon themselves to terminate his job because of their inability to solve a problem, if indeed there was a problem.

The Editor

Dear Sir:
I believe in clean, honest, open and responsive government and I work hard for it!

During the past five years no one has attended more Albany City Council meetings than I, nor has anyone attended more commission and committee meetings. During the past three years I was appointed to seven city commissions and presently I serve on two.

I am also involved in many other civic activities. Rarely does a day go by that I do not devote two hours or more in the interest of Albany.

Your editorial of May 4 was highly inflammatory and presents potential danger to the welfare of Albany. It must not pass without challenge! In your editorial you charge Mayor Jackson and Councilman Pat Griffin and Mike Gleason with pressuring "almost every city department head who has attempted to maintain the integrity of his department... into submission or resignation."

I say prove it! Name the department heads in question and publish their statements.

You also charge that former Fire Chief Gerald Browne "was treated like dirt, particularly by Gleason and Griffin and forced to resign." I say prove it! Present a statement from Chief Browne that he was pressured to resign.

You also state that Police Chief "Simmons can expect continued harassment from the council when the human relations commission is formed. It is nothing more than a police review commission with a phony name. Jackson, Gleason and Griffin will pack it with anti-police individuals and once again the fat will be in the fire."

Your opinion is malicious on its face and I am confident you will be proved one hundred percent wrong.

Please note that I opposed the use of the Psychological Stress Evaluator on Constitutional grounds and yet I am very friendly with Chief Simmons. I believe Albany has a fine police department.

The last charge was, "From the time Gleason and Griffin were elected to the Council their operating premise has been to get rid of City Hall staffers who aren't 'their people'." Again I say, prove it! Name the staffers that were removed by Jackson, Gleason and Griffin.

I love Albany. I love Truth and I love Justice. You made some very serious charges against three of Albany's elected officials. You owe it to the people of Albany to prove the charges or retract them. I urge you not to play games with people's reputations or with the people of Albany with hit-and-run journalism.

Yours truly,
Dario Meniketti

Dear Sir:
I would like to commend you on your May 4, 1977 editorial entitled: "Trouble in Albany City Hall."

It is the first time, to my knowledge, anyone has dared to come out in print and realistically analyze the situation in City Hall.

Although I am no longer a resident of Albany, I was one for 30 years and still feel it is "my town," and am still concerned as to what happens there, although at times I am almost ashamed to admit to anyone that I still feel that way.

I certainly hope the citizens and voters of Albany will keep aware of just what this "unholy three" are doing to our town and vote them out of office next April.

As you stated in your editorial, Albany used to be a pleasant, well-run city — one we could be proud of. Let's clean house on the council next year and go back to that pleasant times we can, once again, be proud of our town.

Sincerely,
Dorothy McCain Elsenius

Dear Sir:

Little League baseball is a sport in which young athletes are trying to learn a skill, learn competition, and take a step in life that makes them feel they are growing up.

When I see these children practicing or in a game situation, I can see the reflection of their home life and see how each manager has to deal with each child individually. The managers are in a position where they are volunteering their time to work with the kids and doing the best possible job of teaching their skills to the youngsters.

It makes it difficult for a manager to teach each player to work together as a team when there are parents and friends telling the player different things. When the young athlete is put in a position by his manager or coach, it is for the best of the player because his manager recognizes the abilities of that player to produce for that team. The hindsight and/or second guessing by the people in the stands is easy, because it is not their decision that is being questioned.

When I hear complaints about the umpiring, it really bothers me because the parents that complain are the ones that are with the players that complain and use the umpires as an excuse for doing bad. When a player makes an error, the coach, manager and parents tell the kid to shake it off, but when the umpire makes a bad call, he never hears the end of it.

The people I respect are the ones that realize that Little League is a sport for young athletes and there is the human element involved in the game — mistakes by players, umpires, coaches and managers. Those are the people that you will see playing the game with sportsmanship, patience, and volunteering their time with the young athletes to make what is there better and not criticize what should be.

A 1977 Ford Granada* was brought to Germany for a scientific ride comparison with a Mercedes-Benz 450 SE†. Testing was conducted by an independent German engineering firm.

Test 1: Smoothness test. The engineers drove the Granada and the Mercedes at various speeds over roads in Northern Germany, ranging from cobblestone to smooth highway. Using a sensitive electronic recorder, they measured vibration levels. Results: In three out of the four tests, there were "no major differences" between the two cars.

Test 2: Quietness test. Again, the two cars were compared over a variety of German road surfaces at speeds from 30 to 55 mph. A sound meter recorded interior decibel levels on the dBA scale. Results: In all tests the Ford Granada rode as quietly as the Mercedes-Benz.

Albany scores 5 runs in 7th to down San Leandro

ALBANY — In ACAL Albany came up with a 5-1 victory over San Leandro Saturday, to stun the Cougars. The Cougars, 7-6, Ken Torres led off the inning with a single. John Luty then singled. The runners advanced a base on a wild pitch. After that, Greg Westphal led off the bases.

John Davis was hit by a pitch to drive in a run. Wallace followed with a RBI single. With two outs, Jeff Chamness delivered a pinch-hit single to tie the game. Mark Westphal, who had gone in to run the bases, then scored on a wild pitch. The Cougars won the game.

The second of these games broke the 1-1 tie, giving the Cougars a one-run edge and the lead for the remainder of the contest. The Cougars won the game.

With two out in the bottom of the fifth inning, John Luty drove down the right field line. Rightfielder Rick Chamness dived for it, but was up short, allowing Luty to reach third. The Cougars, however, caught that Luty failed to steal first base while rounding the base.

On an appeal play, the Cougars won the game.

the last two. He wound up with 14 strikeouts, and walked only one, a vast improvement over his last outing when he walked 12. "He had better control than he did against Pacific," understated Cougar coach Phil Wanlin. "The difference was that he was getting the ball down in the strike zone."

Plus, some of their hitters were swinging at high strikes," he added. "That helped him out in a few situations."

Bennett didn't walk any while fanning three. Only one of the three Albany runs was earned due to his mistake and others. The Cougars scored the winning run in the sixth inning. After two were down, Ken Torres singled. Pinchhitter Jerold Wiley singled up the middle, and the ball bounced through centerfielder Bryan Caletini's hands, rolling to the fence. That allowed Torres to score, giving Albany a 3-1 advantage.

The Hornets retaliated with a run in the seventh on Michaelito's homer over the right field fence with one away. But Gilbert fanned the next two batters to secure the win.

Albany scored first with a single and advanced a base on a wild pitch. With two away, Torres slapped a single to drive in Wallace.

Albany Bowl

Burcher rolls league leading 866 cluster

By PHIL ALSTON

Eddie Burcher got his team to a flying start in the Scratch Trio summer league at Albany Bowl by firing a league-leading 866 cluster on games of 210-218-216-222.

Rogue Layson and Charley Koop also bettered 800, but neither had Burcher's consistency. Layson's total included 231 and 236, but was marred by a pair of 178 games. Koop's 243 second game was the league's best of the night, but he tailed off at the finish for 809.

The strong Tuesday

Jubilee League found Dennis Dale out in front on opening night with 563 series, although hard pressed by Mark Valente's 560. Tom Townsend had 554, Bob Mann 544.

Lionie Bynum's opening 258 helped him win the Friday Classic sweepstakes with 735 aggregate. His 627 scratch series was augmented by 108 handicap pins. Jim Leone was second with 691, Oscar Karjalainen third at 666.

Carl Hendrix paced Albany Travelers with 583, and Jim Zien hit 551 for Wednesday Jubilee. Inez

Scrifer finished with 206 to lead Berkeley Firemen's Wives with 521.

Early competition in the house eliminations of the Bay Area Summer Doubles tournament finds a tie for first between Lillian and Carl Hendrix and Randy Felix-Dennis Santos, both pairs with 1350 totals.

Felix had 244 game and 648 series as he and Santos added 134 handicap pins to their 1216 scratch. The Hendrix pair got its biggest push from Lillian, who had 233 game and 589 series off her 161 average.

In third place were Donnie Stewart and Davey White of Richmond, only one stick behind the leaders at 1349. Both carry 150 average.

PHILOSOPHY

fin had no immediate comment.
Gleason said, "When we think of the Albany of 1973 and before, most of us remember Albany Hill and the waterfront, both of which were pursued in those days primarily in the interests of the developers, not the city."
"Since then we have tried to deal with these major problems from a public-benefit and environmental standpoint," he said.
"In the same direction, we are working towards the rehabilitation of Albany's older homes, this being more environmentally sound than demolition and institution of big apartment developments."
Gleason continued, "Examples of how we are trying to function can be seen in the waterfront, where a citizens committee has taken much of the burden of research and study."
"Another example is Middle School park. Instead of bringing in a lot of professionals, we worked with several college students living in Albany, involving more than a hundred other interested residents who spent many hours forming the plans," he said.
In the case of the recently approved night harness racing, additional lighting was granted benefiting Golden Gate Fields, since adjustments could be made avoiding environmental injury to the city residents," Gleason added.
"I would expect," she continued, "That there be implementation of modern management techniques such as regular employee and departmental evaluations, zero-based budgeting and cost-effectiveness accounting."
"I believe we need a city administrator who will enthusiastically encourage involvement of citizen groups."
"I expect a new administrator to share citizens' concerns about appropriate business development, human services, environmentally sound solutions to developmental problems such as the waterfront and housing, preservation of open space, preservation of the integrity of neighborhoods and general operation of the government in the public interest," she declared.
"Institution of these and other techniques will insure low-cost and efficient city government," Mrs. Jackson added.
Councilman Gleason supported her statements to the I-G, while Councilman Grif-

Announcing The "Any Reason" Loan

$5,000 and up for homeowners

Money to go for practically anything. Now you can borrow on your home and use the money for practically anything—such as travel, a vacation home, education, consolidating old debts, new furniture, installing a swimming pool, or paying medical expenses.

Use the equity that's in your home. You may be surprised at the amount you can borrow on your home: take the market value of your home—what it would sell for today, and multiply that by 80%. From this figure, subtract the balance of all loans against your home. The remainder, if greater than $5,000, is the amount you can probably borrow with an "Any Reason" Loan.

11.50% Annual Percentage Rate (APR). The Mechanics Bank "Any Reason" Loan A.P.R. is 11.50%. The Annual Percentage Rate as stated here is quoted before any loan fees, where applicable. The table below lists some of your borrowing and repayment options.

AMOUNT BORROWED	MONTHLY PAYMENT	TERM	FINANCE CHARGE	TOTAL REPAYMENT	ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE
5,000	109.95	5 Yrs.	1597.00	6597.00	11.50
5,000	86.89	7 Yrs.	2298.76	7298.76	11.50
5,000	70.25	10 Yrs.	3430.00	8430.00	11.50
7,500	164.93	5 Yrs.	2395.80	9895.80	11.50
7,500	130.34	7 Yrs.	3448.56	10,948.56	11.50
7,500	105.37	10 Yrs.	5144.40	12,644.40	11.50
10,000	219.91	5 Yrs.	3194.60	13,194.60	11.50
10,000	173.79	7 Yrs.	4598.36	14,598.36	11.50
10,000	140.50	10 Yrs.	6860.00	16,860.00	11.50

11.00% Annual Percentage Rate with a Mechanics Bank checking account. The Mechanics Bank makes loan repayment extremely easy: you just open a Mechanics Bank checking account and authorize us to deduct your monthly payments automatically. That allows us to lower your annual percentage rate to 11.00%. And that's less paperwork for you.

Closer-To-Home service. An "Any Reason" Loan is an easy loan to arrange. Just talk with the lending officer at any of our local offices. Each of our office managers can process your loan request quickly, so decisions take very little time.
